

Making the Movie: New TV Rijnmond series

Saturday, 21 February 2009

Zimati and In-Soo Productions will be coproducing the 3 part documentary series about the production of the Dutch feature film Carmen van het Noorden. Making the Movie will focus primarily on all the young filmmakers that are working on the film, not just the young actors in front of the camera, but also those that are working behind the scenes as production assistant, video assist, best boy, scriptgirl and many other tasks.

Carmen van het Noorden is a Dutch feature film produced by In-Soo Productions and FuWorks and starring Dutch actor Tygo Gernandt. The film will be released in the Netherlands at the end of this year. Making the Movie will be broadcasted on RTV Rijnmond later this year.
